

Speech of General Joseph Aoun in the Lebanese consulate in Australia

“I would like to extend my appreciation to the ambassador for his care. We would like to inform you of the situation of your army. We have prepared for the battle and we have provided 20 UTVs, paying half a million Dollars within 48 hours. We have mounted them with rockets and machine guns then used them in the battlefield where they played a major role. We were able to provide 0.5 million USD thanks to loving people like you, thus giving me massive hope after what I witnessed in your eyes and hearts and increasing our responsibility towards you. We are the ones who preserve the country because who has no country, has no identity. Thank you for your affection. Long Live the Army, Long Live Lebanon.”
